Let's bring about a change in the scientific community. Young Researchers Forum provides an opportunity for young researchers to meet and debate research issues and methodology, share and develop ideas, learn from one another, and get information from experienced researchers.

The Water Pollution and Aquatic Life Young Researcher Sessions are held to provide a unique forum for Young Researchers/Investigators to present their current research projects with in-depth analysis. Young Researchers from universities, institutes, and industries are cordially invited to give a short oral presentation at the event. These oral presentations in a related scientific track should last 10 minutes and be followed by a 5-minute question period. As a result, speakers are urged to offer informative and engaging speeches. Applications will be chosen based on their research productivity in the past and their potential in the future.
